

Fellowship of the Random Phrases

Saturday August 22, 2009

The congregation where making meaning is entirely up to you.

Priscilla Proudwoman Stadler, Inofficate Artist/Listener

Bells and Entering Music: *ko-daiko

Welcome and Reading: The Tibetan Book of Living and Dying

Collaborative Reading of the Random Phrases

Audio Listening Meditation: *voice

Group Reading: The I-Ching

Farewell Blessing

Music: Chapel's Old Piano and Bell Ringing

Original Music and Sound: Kazumi Shiho

Bell Ringing: Angela Washko

Ushers: Kazumi Shiho and Angela Washko

Hexagram Drawing: Angela Washko

Documentation: René Sing and Greg Hayes

Major thanks and appreciation to John, Jim, Primrose, Sarah and the Contemporary Artists Center, Woodside of Troy, N.Y. With deep gratitude to CAC's Director Hezzie Phillips, whose support helped nurture this event.

*playing a "taiko" (a drum) for ceremonies in Japan. "ko" means small, so "ko-daiko" means small taiko sound.

mixture with John Cage's interview about silence and simultaneous radio streaming in French and Arabic.

piano piece by Kazumi Shiho